ST. James's, July 13. The following Addreſſes have been preſented to Her Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the States of the Iſland of Jerſey; preſented to Her Majeſty by Nicholas Durell, their Deputy, and Philip Pipon, Receiver-General of the ſaid Iſland, Eſqrs; introduc'd by the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Sunderland, principal Secretary of State.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE had no ſooner heard of an intended Invaſion, by a Pretender on your Majeſty's Rightful and Lawful Dominions, brought up in the Tyrannical Principles of the French King, and ſupported by him, but we receiv'd the pleaſing News, that your accuſtom'd Vigilance and great Conduct had deſtroy'd their raſh Attempt; may all the Deſigns of your Enemies, like that, turn to their own Shame.

'Tis with the greateſt delight, we daily hear of the glorious Atchievements of your Reign, which ſo cloſely follow your great Undertakings, that all the World is ſurpriz'd with your unſpeakable Wiſdom, and with the careful and fervent Management of your Councils.

Give us leave, Madam, to take this Opportunity to throw our Lives and Fortunes at your Feet, and to aſſure your Majeſty, that we are unanimouſly reſolv'd, to the utmoſt of our Power, to maintain your Majeſty's undoubted Title to your Realms and Dominions, againſt all your Majeſty's Enemies whatſoever.

To Her moſt Sacred Majeſty ANNE, by the Grace of God, Queen of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c.

The humble Addreſs of the Dean and Clergy of the Iſland of Jerſey; preſented to Her Majeſty by the Lord Biſhop of Wincheſter.

May it pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty,

WE your moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects do humbly adore the merciful Providence of God, which has render'd abortive the wicked Attempts of your Enemies in the late intended Invaſion of the pretended Prince of Wales, who has aſſum'd the Title of King James the Third, notwithſtanding your Majeſty's moſt juſt and undoubted Right to the Imperial Crowns of your Kingdoms.

And as we are very ſenſible of the mighty Bleſſings which we enjoy under your moſt auſpicious Reign, ſo we are amaz'd to hear that any who call themſelves Proteſtants ſhould be ſo infatuated and ungrateful, as to have abetted ſo deteſtable a Deſign: But we hope that none of thoſe who have the Happineſs to be Members of the Eſtabliſh'd Church, could ſo far forget your many Royal Favours, as to have approved ſuch a baſe and unnatural Treaſon.

May the Great God of Heaven evermore protect your ſacred Perſon, proſper your Government, and crown your triumphant Arms with new Victories: And at length, though late, may he reward your Piety and Zeal for his Honour, with an immarceſſible Crown of Glory: Theſe are the hearty Prayers of your Majeſty's moſt humble, loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Dean and Clergy of your Majeſty's Iſland of Jerſey.

The humble Addreſs of the Provoſt, Bailiffs and Town-Council of the Royal Borough of Campbelton, in the Shire of Argyle; preſented to Her Majeſty by Mr. David Campbell, introduc'd by his Grace the Duke of Somerſet.

WE think it our Duty, upon this Occaſion, to join with thoſe of your Majeſty's faithful Subjects, who have in humble Addreſſes expreſs'd their unalterable Loyalty to your Majeſty, and their Abhorrence of the late Attempt againſt your Majeſty's undoubted Title to the Crown, the Eſtabliſhment of the Proteſtant Succeſſion by the Pretender, and his Author the French King.

We have been ever of Opinion, that our Liberty and Property conſiſts chiefly in our Right to be your Majeſty's Subjects; and are ſo ſenſible of the many Bleſſings which have follow'd upon your Majeſty's happy Adminiſtration of the Government, that the Union of the two Kingdoms could alone have been an Addition to them; and don't doubt, but ſo ſolemn a Stipulation will for ever be ſacred to all but Enemies to that glorious part of your Majeſty's Reign.

We humbly deſire to congratulate your Majeſty upon ſo early and ſo great an Effect of this Union, that this part of the united Kingdom does now enjoy the Peace and Liberty of the happieſt Conſtitution in the World, which in a ſeparate State, muſt inevitable have been, by this time, ſunk under Popery and Slavery, and have wiſh'd in vain for that Deliverance your Majeſty, by your tender Care of the united Kingdom, has been graciouſly pleas'd to afford.

The humble Addreſs of the Biſhop, Dean, Arch-deacon, and the reſt of the Clergy of the Dioceſs of Kilmore and Ardagh, aſſembled at the annual Viſitation, May 27. and June 3. 1708. tranſmitted from Ireland to his Excellency the Earl of Pembroke, and by him preſented to her Majeſty.

Which Addreſſes her Majeſty receiv'd very graciouſly.

From on Board her Majeſty's Ship the Northumberland at Genoa, June 24. N. S. On the 27th of April we left Lisbon, and got into the Streights Mouth on the 11th of May. Sir John Leake order'd the Defiance, Dunkirk, and this Ship, to proceed to Alicant before the Fleet, and from thence to Barcelona. We had not been in the Road of Barcelona two hours, before the Falcon Pink came in with a French Prize of 22 Guns, and 200 Men; ſhe gave us an Account of a French Convoy of 4 Men of War, with 90 Tartars laden with Corn, for the Uſe of the French Army under the Duke of Orleans; whereupon we immediately weigh'd Anchor, and went after them. The next Day we came up with them, the Defiance took 6, we 5, the Dunkirk 1; and the Sorlings, which had then join'd us, 5. We chac'd the Men of War all Day, and came up with them about Night, but it prov'd little Wind, and they took to their Oars, and got from us; but we drove all the Tartans into the Fleet, who took about 60 more of them. Sir John Leake, with the Fleet, lyes at Vado, in order to receive on Board her Catholick Majeſty, and the German Forces.

Oſtend, July 22. N. S. The Duke of Marlborough decamp'd on the 14th from the Neighbourhood of Audenarde, and march'd to the Camp of Helchin; from whence his Grace detach'd the Generals Lottum, Fagel and Dopft, with 20000 Men, to take the Lines of Warneton and Comines, near Ypres, which they perform'd at break of Day on the 15th, taking 500 Priſoners. The ſame Day the whole Army decamp'd and follow'd this Detachment through Peteghem, Avelghem and Eoſſut, paſſing the Lys within a Mile and a quarter of Menin. The French Troops which retir'd to Ghent, are encamp'd between that City and Bruges. The Princes of France have their Quarters at Lovendgem, and the Duke of Vendome at Bellem. Prince Eugene, with the Army under his Command, lyes at Enghien, and the Duke of Berwick near Mons. His Grace the Duke of Marlborough is encamp'd under Ypres. Our Governor has put all the Country between Bruges and Newport under Water, to prevent the Enemy's retiring that way. Our laſt Accounts inform us that we have taken, in the late Action, two Lieutenant-Generals, three Major-Generals, four Brigadiers, ſeven Colonels, eight Lieutenant-Colonels, eight Majors, 198 Captains, Lieutenants 147, Cornets and Enſigns 96, Quarter maſters 47, of the Gens d'Arms, Muſquetaires and Life-Guards 186, private Soldiers 9000. The Enemy deſert every Day in great Numbers.

Whitehaven,
